Save for (i) the Proposed Annual Caps; and that (ii) the New Agreements shall be of a term from 1 January 2024 to 31 December 2026, the New Agreements are substantially the same as the Existing Agreements.

KBH

As at the date of this announcement, Hallgain owns approximately 42.35% of the issued share capital of KBH and is therefore a connected person of KBH. 1. NEW KBH PURCHASE FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT

Background

On the date of this announcement, KBH entered into a purchase framework agreement with Hallgain (the “New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement”) in relation to the purchase of materials including copper balls and drill bits and machineries for the production of PCBs from the Hallgain Group by the KBH Group. Details of the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement are set out below:

Date: 31 October 2023

Parties: (1) Hallgain
(2) KBH

Nature of transaction: Pursuant to the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement, the KBH Group agrees to purchase materials including copper balls and drill bits and machineries for the production of PCBs from the Hallgain Group.

The amount of materials or machineries to be purchased is not fixed but is to be determined and agreed between the parties from time to time. The KBH Group will not be obligated to purchase a minimum amount of materials or machineries from the Hallgain Group and the Hallgain Group will not be obligated to sell any set quantity of materials or machineries to the KBH Group during the term of the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement.

The actual quantity, specification and price (with reference to the prevailing market price) of materials including copper balls and drill bits and machineries under the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement will be subject to the individual orders placed by the KBH Group with the Hallgain Group.

Term: From 1 January 2024 to 31 December 2026, both days inclusive.

Consideration: The price at which the materials or machineries are to be purchased will be at a price which is not less favourable to the KBH Group than the price at which the KBH Group purchases, or would be able to purchase similar materials or machineries from independent third parties having regard to the quantity and other conditions of the purchase. To facilitate the KBH Group in determining the prevailing market price, the KBH Group will consider the prices offered by independent third party suppliers of similar materials or machineries (based on similar amount and similar specifications). In particular, where appropriate, the relevant purchasing department of the KBH Group will obtain quotations from different suppliers (both the Hallgain Group and the independent third party suppliers) and monitor the movement of market price from time to time.

The Hallgain Group will grant a credit period of 60 days to the KBH Group. The consideration will be settled in cash.

Note:

1. This is an estimated figure by straight-line multiplication from the actual transactions during the nine months ended 30 September 2023.

The Proposed Annual Caps under the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement were determined with reference to the internal projection of the purchases having regard to (i) the historical amount of purchase of materials for the production of PCBs such as copper balls and drill bits by the KBH Group from the Hallgain Group; (ii) the anticipated growth in demand of such materials and machineries; (iii) the anticipated increase in market price of such materials and machineries; and (iv) inflation. The Proposed Annual Caps for the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement for the years ending 31 December 2024, 2025, 2026 are calculated based on: (i) for the year ending 31 December 2024, the average amount of the actual transactions under Existing KBH Purchase Framework Agreement for the year ended 31 December 2021 and 2022 and the estimated transaction amount for the year ending 31 December 2023 plus a buffer of 5% and (ii) for the years ending 31 December 2025 and 2026, an annual growth rate of 3%. REASONS FOR AND BENEFITS OF ENTERING INTO THE NEW AGREEMENTS

The KBH Group is engaged in, among other things, the manufacturing and sale of PCBs, which require materials such as copper balls and drill bits and specific machineries as components for its production. The KBL Group is engaged in, among other things, the manufacturing and sale of laminates and related products, which require specific machineries as a component for its production. The Hallgain Group is engaged in, among other things, the manufacturing and sale of copper balls, drill bits and machineries.

Pursuant to the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement, the Hallgain Group shall produce and supply materials including copper balls and drill bits and machineries to the KBH Group. In order to satisfy the demand of the KBH Group for materials such as copper balls, the Hallgain Group shall purchase copper for the production of copper balls for its sale to the KBH Group. The provision of copper and laminates by the KBL Group to the Hallgain Group under the New KBL Supply Framework Agreement not only facilitates the KBL Group to distribute and sell its copper and laminates, thereby increasing the sales and revenue of the KBL Group, it also secures a steady supply of copper and laminates to the Hallgain Group. A reliable supply of materials such as copper balls and drill bits by the Hallgain Group to the KBH Group can also facilitate the KBH Group's production of PCBs. The KBH Group and the KBL Group consider that the Hallgain Group is a reliable business co-operation partner and such co-operation is beneficial to the business of the KBH Group and the KBL Group, respectively.

The KBH Group anticipates that machineries for the manufacture of PCBs will continue to be required for the KBH Group to operate its business. The directors of KBH Group consider Hallgain Group to be a reputable manufacturer of copper balls and drill bits and machineries. Taking into account a range of factors including the reduction in transportation costs, the quality and the price of the machineries manufactured by the Hallgain Group for the production of PCBs, the KBH Group considers that the purchase of machineries under the New KBH Purchase Framework Agreement will facilitate its business plan and will improve the competitiveness and the quality of the PCBs manufactured by the KBH Group.

The KBL Group anticipates that machineries for the manufacture of laminates will continue to be required for the KBL Group to operate its business. The directors of KBL Group consider Hallgain Group to be a reputable manufacturer of machineries. Taking into account a range of factors including the reduction in transportation costs, the quality and the price of the machineries manufactured by the Hallgain Group for the production of laminates, the KBL Group considers that the purchase of machineries under the New KBL Purchase Framework Agreement will facilitate its business plan and will improve the competitiveness and the quality of the laminates manufactured by the KBL Group.

The supply of copper and laminates and purchases of copper balls, drill bits and machineries contemplated under the respective agreements are to be of a recurrent revenue nature to be occurred on a regular and continuing basis in the ordinary and usual course of business of the KBH Group and the KBL Group, respectively. The agreements provide a framework for the supply of copper and laminates by the KBL Group to the Hallgain Group from time to time on a non-exclusive basis and the purchase of materials such as copper balls, drill bits and machineries by the KBH Group and the KBL Group from the Hallgain Group respectively from time to time on a non-exclusive basis and regulate the future possible business relationship among the KBH Group, the KBL Group and the Hallgain Group in relation to the transactions under the agreements.

In negotiating and determining the pricing terms of each of the subject transactions under the New Agreements, in order to ensure that the pricing terms are on normal commercial terms and in the interests of KBH or KBL (as the case may be) and their respective independent shareholders as a whole, the general principle is that the KBH Group and the KBL Group (as the case may be) shall consider, where appropriate, the prices offered by independent third party suppliers or to independent third party customers (as the case may be) of similar product (based on similar amount and similar specifications) in arriving at the pricing terms with the Hallgain Group after arm's length negotiations. In particular, as part of the internal control procedures, the relevant purchasing department and sales department (as the case may be) and/or the director-in-charge of the relevant operating subsidiary, shall, where appropriate, obtain quotations from independent third party suppliers or compare prices offered to independent third party customers (as the case may be) in determining the pricing terms with the Hallgain Group from time to time. The historical price of such comparable transaction will be taken into account. As such, the terms offered to the Hallgain Group in respect of the subject transactions under the New Agreements will be comparable to market terms, or not more
